DERBY TRACK AT ITS BEST

Hot Sun and Light Breeze Expected To Bring All 20 Entrants to Post

WAR ADMIRAL FAVORED

Condition of Turf Boosts His Chances of Winning $52 575 Purse

By The Associated Press

CHURCHILL DOWNS LOUISVILLE Ky May 8—A burning sun aided by a southerly breeze turned the Churchill downs track into a lightning fast racing strip today as the vanguard of an expected crowd of 65,000 thronged the historic course for the 63rd Kentucky Derby

The fast track indicated that all of the overnight entries of 20 three year olds would face Starter Bill Hamilton about 5 45 p m (Eastern Standard time) A check of the trainers showed that none had any intention of scratching I J Collins of Detroit who entered Bernard F without a jockey secured the services of Lou Hardy this morning and announced his colt would definitely go to the post Previously he was considered the only doubtful starter in event the going was good

Crowd Arrives Early

The crowd began to arrive early An hour and a half before post time for the first race 12 30 p m the rambling grandstand was filled and several thousands more spectators sweltered on the lawn Many of the men were not long shedding their coats while on the uncovered top deck of the stands women sought protection from the sun beneath newspapers

The clubhouse the greater part of which was reserved was slow in filling as the early arrivals mingled in the beautiful flower gardens and studied past performances

Two bands put in their appearance early They too received the full glare of the sun from positions on each side of the grandstands and in the infield Several dice games were going full force on the infield grass

Admiral's Chances Improved

The condition of the track served to strengthen War Admiral's position as the favorite to win the $52 575 The diminutive son of Man O War making his Philadelphia owner's first bid for the turf classic has turned in his best races over fast racing strip He was expected to go to the post at odds of around 8 to

Railway Express Will Open New Uptown Office

Increase in Business Necessitates Additional Service To Enlarge Depot Quarters

Marion is to have an uptown railway express office for the first time since 19[illegible] it became known today when I J Salter manager of the Railway Express agency announced the company has leased rooms in the Georgian Apartment building at 135 South State street and will open an office there this month

At the same time the company will enlarge and improve its quarters near the Union station

An increased volume of business and desire of the company to offer more convenient service facilities for its customers were the reasons for the move Mr Salter said

The company's local business has increased 15 per cent and the volume of transfers it makes of shipments passing through Marion has gone up 20 per cent as compared with last year he said

Prior to 1932 Marion had an uptown express office but at that time the office was moved to near the Union station The office was last located on South Main street

The South State street office to be opened as soon as it is fitted for use formerly was occupied by the Christian Science reading room which has been moved to room 404 in the Uhler Phillips Co building

The uptown office will be open eight hours daily and office service will continue to be available 24 hours a day at the building near the Union station Mr Salter said

Addition of approximately 60 feet to the 140 foot length of the present building and construction of stalls to house the company's vehicles will be part of the remodeling and improvement program at the express building at the Union station

The agency now provides work for 1[illegible] persons and may add one or two in connection with opening of the uptown office Mr Salter said He has been associated with the company for 32 years

SORORITY SISTERS SEEK MISSING COED

Check All Rumors and Tips and Cancel Contest in Deference to Girl's Mother

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE O May 8 The DW men—members of Delta Delta Delta—took a prominent [illegible] today in the intensive search for pretty Ruth Baumgartner their blond sorority sister whose disappearance stirred the Ohio Wesleyan university campus and [illegible] of 10,000 persons

Led by Sorority President Louise [illegible] they quickly and quietly checked every rumor and every tip [illegible] the 22 year old coed who was seen Tuesday night

The Wesleyan girls sorority cancelled its participation in a [illegible] with other Ohio Wesleyan [illegible] in deference to [illegible] her Mrs Carl Baumgartner [illegible] father is [illegible] in the search which Police Chief [illegible] and [illegible] Sheriff [illegible] agreed had produced no tangible clue

The DW men also made the rounds of Delaware florists to determine if the girl in brown who authorities thought might be an amnesia victim had placed an order for flowers for Mothers day—tomorrow They wanted to cancel any such order to spare the feelings of the distraught mother

As the girl's father expressed complete mystification to authorities and offered only a suggestion that she possibly was kidnaped Dr Elmer D Soper university head said a plea to students at chapel services for information had brought no news of the girl whose mother after a check of clothing said disappeared wearing a brown suit and brown accessories

BIG STARS THREATEN TO JOIN STRIKERS

Plans for Picketing Theaters Throughout U S Heighten Interest in Dispute

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD May 8—A growing threat of filmland's high salaried stars to join with makeup artists and other studio craftsmen in a strike rocketed interest today in labor troubles of the multi million dollar industry

Plans for immediate picketing of theaters throughout the nation further heightened the situation

Business Manager Aubrey Blair of the powerful Screen Actors guild which is headed by Robert Montgomery said 99 per cent of member players polled favored joining the strike unless producers met guild demands

The guild which embraces most of the big names of Hollywood is seeking improved conditions for supporting players and guild recognition

The craftsmen are asking for a closed shop and union recognition

Half the 1,200 senior or voting guild members remain to be heard from and a 75 per cent total affirmative vote is required for a strike

The head of the striking Federated Motion Picture crafts Charles Lessing received reports that labor organizations would initiate a theater picketing and boycott campaign in various large cities at least by Monday in response to his telegraphed requests

CONFERENCE ON RELIEF CALLED

Commissioners and Mayor Will Consider Returning Responsibility to City

TO MEET MONDAY AT 5 P M

Shifting Load to Townships Also Will Be Discussed, 191 Families Now Listed

Marion city and county officials will meet at 5 p m Monday in the office of county commissioners to discuss future plans for caring for direct relief clients Although Mayor Smith stated he knows nothing of the nature of the conference Leo J Cusick chairman of the board of commissioners who called the meeting said an attempt will be made to solve the relief [illegible] problem

One county official said the meeting will serve to bring to a head the controversy over shifting of the control of relief in Marion city from the hands of commissioners to the municipal officials A similar shift of control to townships is also being discussed but is of minor significance in comparison with the proposed transfer to the city where the majority of the relief [illegible] is located County Relief Director John Abel is also expected to attend the conference

A [illegible] division among the council on the question of the shift is reported with Chairman [illegible] O C McCurdy and J O W[illegible] in [illegible] Mayor Smith declined to comment on how he felt at the conference

The relief load in the county is now the lightest since the beginning of the direct relief method of caring for the impoverished Only 191 families are now receiving aid in comparison with nearly 700 a month ago and 3,200 families in the winter of 1934 35

The cost has dropped tremendously from $79,000 monthly for the 3,200 cases to an estimated $7,000 last month

DELAY ARRAIGNMENTS IN "NUMBERS" RAID

Action Held Up After Conference of Attorney and Solicitor.

Arraignment of 10 persons facing charges as a result of a police numbers game raid April 28 were postponed to next week when Paul D Smith attorney for the accused persons conferred with City Solicitor Ralph E Carhart this morning The arraignments had been tentatively set for today

Mr Smith said it is not definitely decided what pleas the accused persons will make in view of certain circumstances He would not disclose what questions are being studied as a basis for determining what the pleas will be

Eight of the 10 face charges under a city ordinance of frequenting a gambling place while two others are charged with establishment and operation of a scheme of chance known as the numbers game.

In view of the fact City Solicitor Carhart will be occupied early next week preparing and handling the city's case in the water rate controversy, to be heard by the state utilities commission Tuesday, arraignment of the accused persons is not expected before Wednesday.

3 MORE DEATHS MAKE TOTAL 35

Capt Lehmann Radio Operator and Passenger Succumb to Blast Injuries

4 ON INVESTIGATION BOARD

Thorough Probe Ordered While Commerce Department Plans Another Quiz Monday

By The Associated Press

LAKEHURST N J May 8 The navy department ordered a board of inquiry convened today to investigate the destruction of the German airship Hindenburg at the naval air station here with a loss of 35 lives

The public investigation begins as soon as [illegible] The commerce department already had arranged for public hearings to start next Monday at the station

The members of the board were Capt Gordon W Haynes commandant of the naval ammunition depot at Fort Mifflin Pa Lt Comdr Roland Mayer [illegible] naval aircraft factory Philadelphia Lt Comdr Cornelius V S Knox naval air station Lakehurst Lt Daniel W [illegible] naval air station designated recorder

35 Known Dead Now

Two deaths in the early morning raised to 35 the number who lost their lives in the crash of the giant skyliner pride of Germany's air fleet

They were William Speck chief radio officer of the airship who succumbed in a New York hospital A German passenger Erich Knoecher in [illegible] Asbury Park

The man who commanded his ship on its first voyage to Lakehurst from Germany last year Capt Ernst Lehmann died last night

Casualties in the disaster stood today as follows

Known dead 35 12 passengers 22 crew and one member of the ground crew

Known survivors 62 [illegible] passengers and [illegible] crew

The zeppelin company said the airship carried 36 passengers and a crew of 61 on its last flight

Thorough Inquiry Ordered

The order convening the board instructed it to make a thorough investigation of all circumstances surrounding the disaster

It was issued by Capt J [illegible] Martin acting commandant of the fourth naval district Philadelphia

Capt Haynes said he did not know how long the inquiry would require but would take at least a few days

The American Zeppelin Transport Co announced that with the exception of the body of Capt Lehmann all of the crew dead would be returned to Germany as soon as possible

Lehmann's body it was expected would be held in a Jersey city mortuary until the arrival of his widow A son of the couple had died at Easter time

The board's study was to include a report on the number injured damage to property responsibility for the crash and the interest of the U S government

Report to Secretary

The board will report to the secretary of the navy upon the cause and the responsibility for the disaster Capt Haynes said

The first witness to be called he said will be a ship's officer by the name of Bauer The hearing he said would parallel the department of commerce hearing

The theory that an electric spark either from one of her engines or from her landing ropes ignited the Hindenburg's highly inflammable hydrogen gas appeared to have the most expert support In the background remained the widely circulated hints of sabotage which have yet to find an authentic sponsor

Capt Lehmann Dies

Death robbed the public investigation of testimony from Capt Ernst Lehmann skipper of the ship last season and former commander of the sky veteran Graf Zeppelin He stuck to his ship until the last minute when he was forced to leap from the furiously burning control car with his clothing afire Even he was baffled by the disaster

Next time we come over he whispered before he died under an oxygen tent in a nearby hospital last night "I hope we'll be using helium (a non-explosive gas) in the bags"

The cost of the disaster stood at 35 known dead 12 of them passengers, 22 crew and one a groundling trapped by the flaming debris Of the 21 passengers and 39 crew known surviving several were so badly burned they may not recover

Despite the blow to Germany's prestige in the dirigible world the tragedy only seemed to spur that nation on in the construction of its new air-liner the LZ 130 to be completed this year at Fredrichshafen Nazi labor front groups began collecting money in the streets of German cities to finish the work.

Stamp Collecting Has Wide Appeal As Hobby

Editor's note Arthur S Brooks executive head of the Harding Area of the Boy Scouts wrote the following article on Stamp Collecting which is his leisure hour hobby. The annual hobby and handicraft show for boys and girls of Marion city and county will be held May 14-15 at the Y M C A

[illegible]

Stamp [illegible] favorite for [illegible] the [illegible] bits of paper [illegible] off corners of [illegible] world. A [illegible] stamps [illegible] for advertising

Among [illegible] popularity [illegible] men and women [illegible] as well [illegible] as an exam[illegible]

[illegible] valuable investment and [illegible] during the depression [illegible] However the [illegible] collector [illegible] merely [illegible] stamps for financial gain. He collects stamps for the fun [illegible] and he gets the [illegible] of arranging them in his album and for the [illegible] of each different [illegible]

If you take up collecting stamps you will have lots of company from kings to commoners. The late King George V had a large collection and many of the world's great are numbered in the ranks of collectors. There are more weekly periodicals devoted to stamps than any other hobby and nearly every city has its stamp club

For real diversion education and enjoyment we suggest the hobby of stamp collecting. And if you once start it is apt to become a lifelong hobby

GOERING SAYS AIRSHIP FIRE IS ACT OF GOD

By The Associated Press

DUSSELDORF Germany May 8 Air Minister Hermann Wilhelm Goering today ascribed the Hindenburg explosion disaster to an act of God

A higher power in a few seconds destroyed what human hands by infinite care had constructed he said in a speech opening the creative people fair

We bow to God's will and at the same time we face the future with an unbending will and passionate hearts to continue the work for conquest of the air

Turning to his regular exposition speech Goering jibed at the Paris fair declaring

This exposition covers a space as large as the Paris fair As is natural to Nazi Germany it was completed on time No strikes no social problems no class spirit retarded its progress In humility we should kneel down and thank God for giving us the fuehrer who made the unity of our people possible

The opening of the Paris exposition put off by construction delay now is set for May 24

was flung unhurt 20 feet to the ground when the ship exploded reported he has already been assigned to the new LZ 130

It goes into service this fall he said He repeated the statement made by his chief Dr Hugo Eckener president of the Zeppelin Co but to win public confidence we must use helium now

Commander Charles E Rosendahl commandant at the Lakehurst station and incidentally one of the few men to talk with Lehmann after the disaster said the fire could not have occurred if helium instead of hydrogen had been used in the Hindenburg's many gas compartments

Rosendahl while emphasizing no one can know the cause of the accident at present mentioned the possibility that static might have formed around the huge envelope during its flight in an electric storm before attempting to land The explosion he said might have been caused when cable line from the airship touched the wet ground completing a circuit to the static

Although several witnesses said an engine of the dirigible seemed to backfire Schaedle the engineer said he was sure that no sparks flew from the rear motors

Cites Strange Cause

Gill Robb Wilson New Jersey state aviation director who will serve as technical advisor to the department of commerce inquiry board open hearing amplified his statement after the crash that something strange caused that tragedy

I was referring to the accident not the cause he said Nobody can say what the cause was until investigations have been held All anybody can do is guess and that would be a very foolish thing

South Trimble Jr solicitor of the commerce department Major R W Schroeder assistant director of the bureau of air commerce and Dennis Mulligan chief of the department's regulation and enforcement division constitute the official board of inquiry

Theirs was the task of seeking a solution to what was termed a very very puzzling situation by Col J Munroe Johnson assistant secretary of commerce

In addition to Wilson their technical advisors will be Rosendahl Lieut Col C De F Chandler U S A retired and Col H B Hartney technical advisor to the air safety committee of the United States senate commerce committee

The German ambassador Dr Hans Luther will name official observers for his government

There was talk of salvaging the motors of the ship and perhaps some of the tragic framework but one navy airman gazed at the wreck and suggested we might as well call the junk man

Commander Rosendahl said she was a total loss

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Childbirth

IT IS the noble ambition of every young woman to have a family. But there appears to be an increasing fear of motherhood because of [illegible] much discussed [illegible]

Certainly this disturbance of mind [illegible] caused by the numerous articles about the danger of childbirth. During the past few years much has been said about the high maternity mortality rate.

I wish I could deny these stories. But it is true that in the United States last year more than 13,000 mothers died in childbirth. What makes it worse is that possibly two-thirds of this number died needlessly.

These figures are not quoted to add to the alarm but to emphasize the need of better medical care of the prospective mother. I want you to know that modern medicine has discovered many ways and means of reducing the dangers and of saving the lives of those approaching motherhood. The needless risks of childbirth disappear when there is adequate and early medical care. The young woman who is physically fit and under the care of a competent doctor will escape the serious risk of childbirth.

Consult Physician Early

The expectant mother should report to the doctor as soon as she discovers her condition. By care at that time, receiving what we call pre-natal attention, serious complications can be avoided. This care marks the difference between safety and danger.

Most of the mothers of the past generation had no medical supervision until the baby was about to arrive. No attempt was made to deal with possible complications due perhaps to physical defects. In fact almost no medical care was given prior to confinement.

One of the most serious of childbed complications is known to doctors as eclampsia, the terrible convulsion of pregnancy. Happily the possibility of this condition has been markedly reduced. It has been brought under control through increased knowledge of the diet together with a better understanding of the part the glands play during pregnancy.

General Health Important

This information has no value to the ignorant. It must be applied during the pre-natal period. Its importance is another vital reason why early care should be given the prospective mother.

The expectant mother should take every measure to improve her general health before confinement. Almost every abnormal physical condition can be corrected or its evil effect guarded against by attention during the early months of pregnancy. The young mother can be saved the agony of difficult labor and the child saved from childbirth injury.

A complete physical examination should be made upon the first and very early visit to the doctor. This should be followed by repeated tests of the urine and periodical check up of the blood pressure.

When all of these measures are used the future mother is assured of a normal and safe delivery. It will make the beginning of the mother job far easier and will lay the foundation of continued good health. Besides there is the happy assurance of having a sweet, smiling, vigorous baby.

FRANK BROS.

Here's the DRUM-MAJOR of the motor car parade

If you know a leader when you meet one, you'll see the moment you try this sparkling Buick why it's called the out in front car of the year.

You'll go for the way it goes for you—serene, steady, gallant as the figurehead on a buoyant ship—you're in for a thrill every time you put it into action.

You handle a wheel that turns as easy as the pages of a book. You press the treadle—and sink inches deep back in the soft cushions with the swoop of its take off.

You click off miles by the score, the hundred—and no matter how far you range or what gait you travel, you can't get a whine out of that softly whispering engine!

The answer is you've got a car that was born to go places the way you want to go—smoother, safer, steadier than any car you've known.

Power in this flashing Buick is the power of eight straight valve-in-head cylinders. Its gait is the level gait of a car built close to earth with enough bulk to hold it there.

Its maneuverability is the quick mobility of a charger.

Yet the crowning touch of its creators was none of these but the figures they succeeded in writing on its price tag. The hard to realize fact is that this great straight eight can be bought for less than some of today's sixes!

There's just one way to get the true picture of Buick's standout value, and that's to drive it yourself. See us soon and get your order in, and you'll enjoy a summer like you've dreamed of!

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES
★ VALVE IN HEAD STRAIGHT EIGHT ENGINE
★ ANOLITE PISTONS
★ AEROBAT CARBURETOR
★ SEALED CHASSIS

Kind of Mothers Needed

A SERMONETTE

BY REV J W HEININGER

Pastor the Calvary Evangelical Church.

A key thought for "Mothers Day 1937—Proverbs "Charms are deceptive and beauty is a breath but a woman who reveres the Lord she will be praised."—(Smith Goodspeed)

AS MRS H JOHNSON'S Mothers Day Message in the Christian Herald and the reported statement of the American Mother of 193[illegible] Mrs [illegible] B Gray [illegible] to a sensible observance of Mothers Day [illegible] mothers [illegible] to be worthy of [illegible]. The [illegible] is [illegible] which [illegible] conscientious mothers and the fact that promoters have turned it into a saccharine melodrama with the telegraph companies reaping a harvest from canned messages and the merchants staging profitable orgies of spending which are really a poor return for the [illegible] afforded gifts

Mrs Gray chosen by the Golden Rule Foundation as the American Mother of 1937 was quoted by The Associated Press "I don't think anyone is worthy of such a great honor. But I will say for myself that I've always tried to be a worthy mother. There are too few good homes today. Cocktails and cigarettes occupy too many mothers' minds. So what can you expect from the children? Nine tenths of the trouble in the world today are caused by bad mothers. If they would [illegible] children [illegible] would [illegible]

Please note [illegible] do they mean? Just Things

Business Girls

WHEN the 1937 business girl steps into her coupe or strikes her stride in the more rigorous mode of locomotion and by that we mean shank's mares she's really tops in comfort and smartness when it comes to togs But it was not ever thus and if you leaf back in fashion's records you'll find out In the current era American business women dictate the majority of contemporary fashions launched yearly partly because there are so many of her and because she is always or nearly always in the public eye and what ever one can wear appropriately at her job is apt to be appropriately worn also by the woman whose job is homemaking

* * *

Pioneers

BUT back back say to the last quarter of the nineteenth century when she was timidly but courageously battling for a spot on the business horizon Then boys and girls she was no style criterion as she tiptoed about in the awesome and puzzling marts of trade Those were the days when typewriters were being installed in the up-to-date business places and the boss did not don his hat and scurry around the corner to discuss a business deal with a contemporary but rang up central and settled the matter then and there And those two items the telephone and the typewriter too trifling to be manned by the masculine element swept us gals into the business whirl

* * *

Evolution

WHAT did she wear as she tripped out to the trolly or climbed into a rubber tired rig en route to her day's grind? More often than not her starched shirt waist rubbed her neck raw before the day was half done and she never left her chair that she wasn't in a dither lest her skirt and waist had decided to part company the leather belts just wouldn't stay put and the long skirts had a way of picking up all the dust in the street to say nothing of wrapping themselves around chairlegs in a most embarrassing manner But when the pendulum swung the other way it was even worse The frivolous stenog regarded the office as a good place to wear out the old party gown jangling bracelets kept pace with the typewriter keys and coiffures were maddening But she's come out beautifully and it's hats off to her for remember there were no guideposts along the way The business woman is feminine first knows what suits her and aims to be in the mode at any cost But after all we're queer critters and should fashion dictate brocades bustles and plumes as smart for the business girl we would to a female pick up our bouffant skirts and be right back of the band

CURE FOR SPRING FEVER

FEEL lackadaisical? Restless? Spend a lot of time day-dreaming, or looking out of the window at nothing in particular? The chances are you have Spring Fever, and ought to do something about it!

One good cure is to buy yourself a new hat, or new shoes, or best of all a complete new outfit. Life takes on a pleasanter glow when you step along in bright new clothes.

Another cure is to blow yourself to a big evening—dinner, flowers, theater, everything. . . Another is a trip somewhere—for a day or a week or even a month—to refresh yourself with new scenes, new faces, new experiences.

The advertising columns of this newspaper are chock-full of fine suggestions for curing Spring Fever. Things you like to have—at prices you can easily afford. Just glance over the advertisements and see!

It pays to follow the advertisements, you know, because they keep you abreast with what's going on—and save you money by pointing out what, when and where to buy.

Low Cost House Plans Are Prepared by FHA

To meet the growing demand for smaller lower cost homes the federal housing administration has prepared a bulletin illustrating and showing plans for a number of homes which can be build in the average community for from $2,500 to $4,000 These small houses are four and six room one and two story frame houses and in architectural design fully comply with the requirements of the FHA insured mortgage loan

Through the cooperation of the National Retail Lumber Dealers association and the National Lumber Manufacturers association lumber dealers in Marion have been provided with plans and specifications for several of these homes which can be secured at a very nominal charge

One of these houses built in Marion fo approximately $ 00 on a lot worth about $500 would require a minimum initial payment of $500 of which the lot can be a part The balance of $3,900 when carried over the maximum period would be paid out in 19 years and six months with monthly payments of approximately $23.50 these payments including a portion of the principal interest service charge mortgage insurance taxes and hazard insurance As all payments on FHA insured mortgages are all inclusive the $23.50 payment would be the entire cost of housing and it is extremely doubtful that a house similar to these FHA planned houses could be rented in Marion for this amount

Copies of technical bulletin No 1 containing these plans and illustrations as well as complete information on the FHA plan of single mortgage financing can be obtained at Marion Better Housing Headquarters located in the Marion Chamber of Commerce

ROYAL DEVISES NEW INSTRUCTION PLAN

Chart Teaches Touch System of Typing to Purchasers of Portables

A new method of finger memory typing instruction with the new Royal Instant touch typing chart is being demonstrated here by Wiant's book store factory representatives for the Royal typewriter

The new chart is a new method of teaching purchasers of portable typewriters the touch system of typing in the quickest possible time The chart is attached to the keyboard of the portable and shows instantly the position of each key in relation to the various fingers used in operating the machine The chart is adaptable only to the Royal portable and one is given with each new machine sold by the store

With high school and college graduation seasons approaching officials of Wiant's store again point to the attractiveness of a Royal portable for graduates For high school pupils who expect to enter college next fall a Royal portable will be a welcome gift

And not only will the graduates appreciate them but they will find a thousand and one uses about the home for each member of the family They come in a variety of finishes and two selections of type faces

Power Plant at Buick Factory Is Huge Affair

FLINT Mich—Men have long visioned a metropolis its heat light power water and other public utilities supplied automatically from one central point

Imagine such a pulsating manufacturing city and you have the Buick factory community its life blood throbbing through a network of underground tunnels pipes and wires

The heart of this busy Buick city is its central power plant Here serve a city of 20,000 population serve a city of 20,000 population steam to operate huge forge hammers to heat buildings feed heat treating processes softened purified water for boilers kitchens laundries sprays and sprinkler system compressed air for operating a multiplicity of tools and machines

Under the pavements spread more than three miles of tunnels some large enough to drive a truck through Emanating from the power house they carry 82,000,000 cubic feet of water a year four billion cubic feet of compressed air 20 miles of main distributing pipe

There is no waste in this efficient utilities plant Exhaust steam is returned and salvaged passing through 286 miles of steam pipe on its round trip Coal is pulverized and blown into furnaces where it burns like gas completely and efficiently Water is condensed and returned to the boilers to be used over Heat that goes up the 225-foot stacks is reclaimed to warm the draft air for the furnaces

From the time the coal leaves the mines until it is turned into power at the switch of a machine human hands do not figure in the process There are no firemen ash haulers or coal heavers that are usually associated with boilers and steam plants A man at a long switchboard can touch a button that will throw 1,000-horsepower into action within a minute

The coal is metered out like water and the steam metered away from the boilers Automatic control feeds the coal through a blower at a rate that keeps the steam pressure constant The boilers have no grates Water walls are built around—that would be the firepot of an ordinary furnace but there is no firepot—simply a space into which this pulverized coal is blown to burn in suspension The ash is blown into a pit and drawn into gondolas through a pneumatic conveyor

Steam engineers electricians pipe fitters welders and machinists comprise the personnel of the power house under the supervision of Philip Drewyer

Two rooms in the house which are frequently forgotten rooms or treated as after thoughts are the kitchen and the bathroom It is a big mistake A living room offers many opportunities for self expression but the bathroom and kitchen are likely to show no individuality whatsoever With a little care however both of these rooms can possess a charm quite as distinctive as the other rooms in the house

Consider the kitchen Wives it would be more pleasant to work in a room that was brightly decorated for instance in a red and white peasant paper with shining white furniture and cabinets trimmed with red wouldn't it? If you are one of those fortunate women who has a jewel of a servant in the kitchen consider her psychology She'd be much happier and also more efficient if her setting were more attractive Decorators have given a great deal of thought to the kitchen and a great variety of washable wall papers have been created especially for kitchen use If grease spatters out of the frying pan onto the wall you don't have to worry because it can be easily removed from these papers

For bathrooms too specially designed washable papers have been created that will work a transformation The Imperial Swan pattern illustrated is very modern and very simple yet it performs miracles in changing a drab room into a thing of beauty A color scheme of white red and black is very new and most effective Imperial papers are sold here by the Marion Paint Co on East Center street

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN—MARION THEATER PROGRAM

New Laurel and Hardy Picture On Palace Bill

"Way Out West" Finds Popular Comedians in Funny Predicaments as Gold Prospectors

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy have made a new travesty on westerns, "Way Out West," which will be brought to the Palace screen Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Previewed to the hilt by critics, the picture and a Sunday-only stage show, "Great Lester Revue," will be in the nature of an experiment. Admission Sunday will be slightly higher to justify the difference in program, but Monday and Tuesday patrons will be given several added short subjects which have been carefully selected to accompany the screen feature.

One short which will be shown the three days is "Servant of the People," a timely two-reel picture filmed with the care and expense of a feature production, showing the authentic story of the writing of the Constitution. The picture was given a screening before Rotary club members and guests two weeks ago and drew commendation from every side. Throughout the country the film is being given general billing over hit feature pictures, an indication of the attraction which theater managers believe it will have for the public.

In Supporting Roles

Sharon Lynne, James Finlayson, Rosina Lawrence, Stanley Fields, Vivien Oakland and the Avalon Boys support Laurel and Hardy. One of the episodes which has been garnering laughs from staid critics is the Laurel and Hardy interpretation of the swing dance.

The story centers around the adventures of the two when they leave off prospecting in the desert and hitchhike to town on a stage coach with a valuable deed to a gold mine. It's a western in gay 90's style and some of the comical songs are full of a replica of the lively honky-tonks which were so prevalent in the life and activities of the period.

Warren William, who has been doing suave detectives, plays the role of an acquitted murderer in "Outcast," the Wednesday picture. A physician, he is hounded from city to city by a woman who believes him guilty and who swore vengeance upon him. When she realizes his innocence and her love for him, she is unable to stop the fury of a mob she had incited against him. Karen Morley portrays the woman who wrecked his life. In support are Lewis Stone, Jackie Moran, John Wray and Jonathan Hale. The picture was made from the novel "Happiness Preferred" by Frank R. Adams.

"Interns Can't Take Money," the Thursday-Friday feature, stars Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea in the romance of a poor medical student and a working girl. It is McCrea's sixth physician's role and about the tenth in which Miss Stanwyck portrays the beauty with the odds against her who gets her man.

Question of Principles

The story poses a question of principles around which much of the action is based. The hospital and medical sequences were made under the supervision of Dr. John J. Loma, chief resident physician of the Hollywood hospital, and all the internes with the exception of Anthony Nace were borrowed from the hospital for the picture. Alfred Santell, famed for his ability as a director of dramas, handled the picture.

Friday night also will start the encore feature for patrons, the first to be returned being "Jungle Princess," featuring Dorothy Lamour and introducing the song "Moonlight and Shadows," which made the hit parade lists as soon as the picture was released.

The Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers just released musical picture, "Shall We Dance," has Edward Everett Horton, Harriet Hoctor, Eric Blore, Jerome Cowan, Ketti Gallian and William Brisbane in the supporting cast. It will open Saturday and remain through Tuesday. Fred and Ginger dance on roller skates this time. Among the song hits are "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off" and "They Can't Take That Away."

STANWYCK AND M'CREA AT PALACE

REHEARING HELD ON INDUSTRIAL CLAIM

Rehearing of the claim of Mrs. Grace Burr of 520 Kentucky court for compensation for the death of her husband, Paxton O. Burr, about three years ago, was held in common pleas courtroom yesterday before a referee from the state industrial commission. A previous appeal had been denied, according to Referee I. R. Coulson.

Paul D. Smith, attorney for Mrs. Burr, said Mr. Burr was in the employ of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. at the time of his death. Mr. Burr was found dead at the plant where he apparently had fallen, Mr. Smith said. Guthery, Streitz & Guthery represent the company.

Testimony taken in the rehearing will be submitted to the industrial commission at Columbus for a decision. If denied, the claim may be appealed to common pleas court, attorneys said.

NOEL LESTER'S NEW SHOW COMING HERE

The "Great Lester Revue" To Be on Palace Stage Sunday

Noel Lester's new edition of the "Great Lester Revue" will be on the Palace stage Sunday, bringing a combination of the musical extravaganza and magic.

Lester, who has toured Europe and is known as a magician with an unusual flare for showmanship, will head the show.

Among the many illusions he will present is a human vivisection in which a girl is placed on her back and apparently is cut in two at the hips by a giant buzz saw in plain view of the audience. Another is a scene in which he produces six girls from an empty cabinet and turns them into living water fountains with streams shooting 12 feet into the air.

Other highlights are Miss Diana Rivers, singer and dancer who was in the Shubert production "Cas Luree"; Miss Lenka Toidl, former Earl Carroll "Vanities" acrobatic dancer, and the Trivone Sisters, a tap dancing team.

The revue carries its own orchestra under the direction of Arthur J. Parent.

TWO FAVORITES ARE RETURNING

Marion Brings Back Eleanor Powell and Wallace Beery Pictures

"Born to Dance" and "Old Hutch," two widely different but equally entertaining pictures, will return to the Marion screen next week.

The Eleanor Powell picture "Born to Dance" will lead off the week on Sunday and Monday and "Old Hutch," starring Wallace Beery, will head the Thursday-Saturday bill.

James Stewart, Virginia Bruce, Una Merkle, Sid Silvers, Frances Langford and Alan Dinehart head Miss Powell's supporting cast. The picture has everything in the way of entertainment for those who are fans of the amazing Miss Powell and who like hit music, gay romance and bevies of lovely girls. The story has its heart throbs as Miss Powell, employed in Miss Merkel's Lonely Hearts club, falls in love with a sailor and he becomes enmeshed in a publicity stunt hatched by the press agent for a motion picture star, Miss Bruce.

"Man of the People," which will be shown on the same bill, features Joseph Calleia, Florence Rice, Thomas Mitchell, Ted Healy and Catharine Doucet.

Until this picture was made Calleia played heavy menace roles, but in "Man of the People" he does an about face and appears as a crusading district attorney who puts up a valiant fight against the power of a political machine. A poor boy, he rises to the post of assistant d. a. in a gang ridden city. He rebels against the whitewash system which protects favorites and is forced to quit. The governor names him head of an investigating committee and the young lawyer uncovers corruption in a huge corporation. The mother of his sweetheart is a heavy stockholder. He prosecutes the case despite the girl's protests and in the end wins both ways.

"Night Waitress," featuring Margot Grahame and Gordon Jones, and "White Fang," made from Jack London's novel of the same name, will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday. In the first named, adventure and romance mingle as a waitress in a waterfront restaurant and a youthful schooner captain innocently become swept into an adventurous mystery involving a stolen fortune in gold bullion. The principal roles in "White Fang" are played by Michael Whalen, Jean Muir, Slim Summerville, Charles Winninger and John Carradine and Lightning, the canine star of Belgian shepherd breed.

Wallace Beery has Lije Linden, Cecelia Parker, Elizabeth Patterson, Robert McWade and Caroline Perkins heading the supporting cast of "Old Hutch." Beery, personification of the song "Lazy Bones," wanders aimlessly about the country and stumbles on a box containing a fortune in money. Looking like he does, he can't spend the money so he goes to work to make his fellow townsmen believe he is saving his cash. The bandits who originally stole the money force them to assist them in cashing it. Ultimately Old Hutch comes into his own. Beery is excellent in the starring role. The same bill will offer a Tex Ritter western, "Arizona Days."

TOP BRITISH FILM COMING

"Head Over Heels in Love" Stars Jessie Matthews, Dance Song Queen

Another of the British-made pictures which has tasted the [illegible] support of eastern reviewers, "Head Over Heels in Love" starring beautiful Jessie Matthews will be shown on the [illegible] screen Sunday and Monday.

Miss Matthews has grown to top-flight place as England's No. 1 song and dance star. Gordon and Revel wrote the music for "Head Over Heels in Love" which recounts the romantic adventures of a temperamental little cabaret and radio entertainer. Paris is the background. Miss Matthews has two leading men, Robert Fleming and Louis Borel, both popular players in England. Whitney Bourne, society girl, plays an international motion picture star who commutes between Hollywood and Paris trailing a coterie of male admirers. She gets herself involved with Miss Matthews when she lures Jessie's beau away.

Miss Matthews has 22 changes of costumes ranging from slinky and sophisticated fur trimmed evening gowns to tailored daytime dresses and perky and abbreviated dance costumes. Sonnie Hale, Miss Matthews's husband, switched from his usual role of featured comedian to director.

On the same bill will be a mystery thriller "I Cover Chinatown" starring Norman Foster. Elaine Shepard, Theodore Von Eltz and Vince Barnett play the principal supporting roles. Arthur Lake handles the comedy. Eltz appears in the role of a villain who murders his young wife and conceals her body in a trunk.

"Captain Calamity" featuring George Houston and Marian Nixon and "Racing Lady" starring Ann Dvorak will return for the Tuesday-Wednesday bill.

The Santa Anita track is the locale of "Racing Lady" which concerns a young and wealthy automobile manufacturer who is the last word in proficiency as a businessman but who has to take lessons in sportsmanship from his girl horse trainer whom he has learned to love. Harry Carey and Smith Ballew are principals in the supporting cast.

Two action pictures, "Stormy Trails" starring Rex Bell and "Tough to Handle" in which Frankie Darro is starred will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

MARION GROUP GOES TO BAND FESTIVAL

Friends and Parents of Musicians Attend Joint Concert in Bucyrus

A group of approximately 40 parents and friends of the Harding high school band members were among an audience of more than 800 which attended the North Central Ohio high school band festival last night in the Bucyrus high school auditorium.

As many if not more went from Marion at noon for the parade and concert on the public square at 1 p. m.

Five hundred and twenty-nine girls played in the concert last night and paraded this afternoon. In addition to the 52 in the Harding band, the director Homer E. Huffman and the mascot Lowell Jones, the following bands were represented: Shelby 61 members, Coldwater 85, Crestline 58, Ohio City 42, Van Wert 68, Upper Sandusky 60 and Bucyrus 100.

The bands made a colorful picture on the stage last night as they played under the direction of J. W. Wainright of Ft. Wayne, Ind., former Fostoria school music supervisor. They had rehearsed with Mr. Wainright in the afternoon and were commended as far above average for their ability to pay close attention and follow direction.

The parade at noon today was augmented by the Bucyrus high school alumni of 60 members and was brightened further by the new red and white military uniforms of the regular high school band worn for the first time. The uniforms were purchased with money raised by public subscription.

Bucyrus donned gala colors for the festival. High school flags decorated the streets and window displays and stores were festive with the colors of the various participating schools.

The visiting band members including the Harding boys and girls were overnight guests of Bucyrus residents and Bucyrus hotels. This morning a free motion picture show was given at Schine's Bucyrus theater.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET AT CHURCH

The Delta Zeta class of the First Reformed church gave a mother-daughter dinner last night at the church. Mothers of the members were guests. A three-course dinner was served at tables decorated with spring flowers and small corsages which were the place favors.

Mrs. Hazel Bodley president of the class was in charge of the program. Lenora Cook and Ruth Jones sang "Little Old Lady" while Dora Jones enacted the story of the song. A pantomime, "The Business Man," was given by Mrs. Bodley, Mrs. Mabel Matthews, Mrs. Catherine Heistand, Mrs. Frieda Wanner, Mrs. Alice Berringer, Mrs. Verna May Kochensparger, Mrs. Martha Reardon and Misses Maude Jones, Mary Howison, Jane Wires and Martha Howison. The remainder of the evening was spent with games and contests.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

BY ESTHER TY[illegible]

SYNOPSIS: Attractive Jude Blinshop is mysteriously shot to death on a wild, stormy night at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's aunts. Everyone marooned on this island is suspect: Mike who talked with Jude alone that night; the Skipper, his tall and tweedy younger aunt; Aunt Martha, stout and prudish; Gay Palmer, Mike's red headed sweetheart; Higgins, the elderly butler; William, the chauffeur; Cook, Annie the maid—even I who lead the group investigation. While searching the house William and I are both knocked out by a mere unseen assailant.

CHAPTER TWENTY
Don't Watch The Stairs

THE narrow corridor was in complete darkness. We made our way along it slowly with the aid of Mike's flashlight. In the main hall full lights still blazed. The air was oppressive. As rapidly as my stiff legs and aching head would allow we crossed to Gay's door where Mike knocked sharply.

"Michael?" came the Skipper's voice from within.

"O.K., Skipper." And the door was opened.

Inside the room was hazy with cigarette smoke. Mrs. Farrington was still in bed [illegible] hand hanging on to Higgins [illegible] dear life. William [illegible] the bed with Annie [illegible] him and [illegible] the [illegible]. The man looked as if he [illegible] sounded.

[illegible] all right [illegible] quickly [illegible] How are [illegible] William?

[illegible] a nasty thing [illegible] hit on the head from behind [illegible]

Gay shoved [illegible] flopped into it [illegible] what I was [illegible]

William [illegible] idea [illegible] me [illegible] bed?"

Someone [illegible] Farring[illegible]ton [illegible] William [illegible] in his feet shaking [illegible] dirty dog," he said and started for me.

Mike intercepted him. "William!" he shouted. "Are you crazy?" His left arm shot out and William spun across the room. "We found Mr. Wells in your room just now—gagged and tied to the bed."

"What [illegible] of myself I pitied him [illegible] gagged and tied—His eyes were those of a suffering dog. [illegible]

"I didn't [illegible] What happened to you? [illegible] time is important. What happened?"

He turned to me like a man walking in his sleep. "I went into my room [illegible] his voice was [illegible] and you hit me when I went [illegible] the door. Oh! [illegible] Sudden[illegible]ly his voice rose in a bellow. "I'm getting out of here. I'll swim out. We're going to be murdered, mur[illegible]dered in the [illegible] Let me go." Mike and I were hanging on to his arms. "Let me go. I can't do no more! I [illegible] All the strength Mike had left went into that punch. William crumpled to the floor.

"Be quiet." Cook was shaking Annie furiously. "[illegible] any fuss now and I'll warm [illegible] proper."

Over William's body I stared at Michael's grim face. "I wasn't William I guess," [illegible] rough [illegible] lips.

"No. And the rest of us were all here."

The Skipper was kneeling beside William and Gay was bringing water from the bathroom.

There Is Someone Else

"Then," said Michael, "at last there is someone else in the house—someone none of us know about."

There seemed to be no other explanation. Which meant that no one in that room was a murderer. None of us had crept stealthily into the storm after a friend and—I could have whooped with relief.

William moaned and opened his eyes.

"Better?" asked the Skipper. "You were a bit excited and they quieted you."

"Here," Mike was oozing good spirits. "Let me help you. Stretch out on the bed a while. You'll be all right."

He helped him to the bed. Annie escaping from Cook and fluttering to his assistance. [illegible] Farrington brought us back to the problem at hand.

"You really think there is some one else in the house?"

"Not a doubt in the world, Aunt Martha," said Michael. "And that makes everything all right."

"Does it?" The Farrington eyebrows went up. "Now I should say, Michael, that it makes everything very much wrong. You don't seriously intend to sit here while an unknown criminal roams the house—a criminal who has murdered one of your guests?"

Mrs. Farrington had a knack for putting things unpleasantly. I had been considering doing just that and as I could see from his face had Michael. Compared to the sensation of suspecting your best friends of an unspeakable crime the feeling of merely being pursued by a thing was a pleasurable one. Michael reddened.

"It's this way, Aunt Martha," I ventured. "We can't do much in the dark, and he can't get away. And—er—well, we're a little done up. I think the most sensible thing for us to do is to make ourselves as comfortable as possible right here until morning."

Mrs. Farrington needed no words to make you feel like something that crawls. The Skipper came to my rescue.

"The most sensible thing any of us can do right now is to eat. Do any of you realize what time it is?"

Incredulously we compared watches. It was after one o'clock.

"Twelve hours since lunch," continued the Skipper. "I propose a kitchen delegation to handle the crisis."

There followed something of an argument. The natural thing was to send the servants all downstairs together. There were four of them. William in no worse condition than [illegible]

Michael [illegible] [illegible] She [illegible] kitchen [illegible] [illegible]

The Skipper [illegible] Higgins had never heard of such a thing [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] going to the kitchen [illegible] there [illegible] stairs [illegible] in the library.

"Gay, who had never really seen Mrs. Farrington [illegible] stay [illegible] penmother [illegible] there's some one down there. I mean—"

Mrs. Farrington nodded [illegible]. "Of course there's some one down the [illegible] my fear. Therefore we shall [illegible] upstairs while all the [illegible] and wait [illegible] no escape.

Well, the conference [illegible] Higgins [illegible] was settled. We gained the library without [illegible]. Wherever our prowler might be, he was not in the halls, the dining room, the library or [illegible] judge by the silence from the other [illegible] the four—the servants' quarter [illegible] own [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] us in the library. Mrs. Farrington [illegible] switching on the dining room lights [illegible]

Sir[illegible]dow. [illegible] Barbara, she ordered [illegible] here [illegible] the divan [illegible] make up a fire. Michael, you and Grace [illegible] put some [illegible] back where they [illegible]

All the high tension drama of the [illegible] enjoy [illegible] that reconstruction program. I fell to work on the fire cage [illegible] while Gay [illegible] the ladder and put up the books Michael hauled here. The Skipper [illegible] the dining room to go [illegible] smoking her back to [illegible] and Mrs. Farrington's [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] daughter.

This she [illegible] her state of [illegible] manner [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] we're not safe in their beds. What I [illegible] a mother [illegible] [illegible] it's the fault of [illegible] No one is safe anywhere [illegible] Barbara [illegible] [illegible] town.

[illegible] Skipper [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] turned [illegible] that [illegible] he back was [illegible] the servants. If [illegible] the [illegible] way we shall have [illegible] quite near us. As to [illegible] be more difficult [illegible] here.

"I'll be [illegible]" said Michael. The Skipper sat down.

"My only fear," continued the amazing old lady, "is that the servants may interrupt him."

But the servants didn't. It was only 20 minutes before the tinkle of silver announced the arrival of Higgins and Annie in the dining room. They had seen no one and none of them had ventured into the hall. Incredible as it seemed after such an experience we were all ravenous. I think that even Mrs. Farrington forgot to make conversation. In any case no one listened to find out. At the Skipper's suggestion Higgins [illegible] in search [illegible] we were left to eat in peace.

But [illegible] the [illegible] reviving us produced a [illegible] of content [illegible] I was struggling with a cup of black coffee when I realized with a start that we had all been [illegible] at the table and that Mrs. Farrington's pressing the bell [illegible] the subsequent appearance of Higgins were the only things that saved us from lapsing into a [illegible] state.

Tortured nerves shriek for rest Monday, but we dare not sleep.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

Is Veritzen Plotting Royal Marriage for His Son?

FATHER VERITZEN wants to separate me from Noel again."

There was a wail in Mary's voice as she uttered the words. From the expression in Dicky's eyes as they caught mine I knew that he was cherishing the same hot anger against Mary's father-in-law which was boiling in my own veins.

For though I told myself that I ought to reserve judgment upon the astonishing news concerning Philip Veritzen's plans which Mary had relayed to us, yet I had seen too much of the great dramatic producer's machinations against Mary both before her marriage to his son and since to be anything but skeptical of his having any plans for her which would not fit in with his overweening ambition to link his family by marriage with the royal dynasty of Transvania.

That family was in exile now, their palace the playground of irresponsible revolutionists, but I know that in Philip Veritzen's eyes the exiled queen and her daughter to whom he was giving sanctuary were all objects of reverential homage.

Is Mary's Surmise Right?

I knew, however, that we must give Mary no inkling that we agreed with her theory of her father-in-law's action. If we were to help her at all we must keep her viewpoint cheerful and optimistic as long as we possibly could.

But I found it difficult to find words which would negate her theory without giving the direct lie to my own convictions so I was grateful to Dicky for the prompt and convincing ridicule with which he greeted her words although I guessed that mentally he was agreeing as I did with Mary's premise.

Dicky Reverses Opinion

Dicky laughed with lazy amusement and I mentally doffed my hat in his direction. His laugh held just the right note of indulgent amusement one would give to a child proposing a ridiculous theory. I saw Mary glance at him sharply and guessed that a tiny wedge of doubt as to the correctness of her theory had entered her mind.

"Okay, my child," he said, "[illegible] made up your mind you're being flim-flammed and nothing your aunt or I could say would sway you one whit. But please let us reserve the same right of obstinate opinionated judgment that you are exercising. You believe this action of your father-in-law's is designed primarily to separate you from Noel. We can think of several other reasons why he has suddenly made this preposterous proposition, for it is preposterous, as I told you before."

"You don't need to rub it in," Mary told him mutinously but gayly and I saw with delight that Dicky's supposed optimism was having its effect upon her. "I know I'm not star material yet. But I had a lot of fun thinking I was for a few short minutes."

"Perhaps you are after all," Dicky said hesitatingly and both Mary and I stared at him in amazement at his divided reversal of [illegible]not from what he had said a few minutes before.

Another Theory Suggested

"What do you mean?" she asked, [illegible] her words and there was [illegible] which brought again the question. Did Mary [illegible] count the chance of [illegible] a theatrical star as the most important thing in life?

[illegible] this Dicky replied [illegible] choosing his words with care. "Your father-in-law is a most erratic man, but his flair for recognizing budding talent is known the world over. He may, mind you, I say only may—see something in you which may make him put aside his [illegible] and star you without the preliminary which has not yet been given you at all. [illegible] the [illegible] boy has put [illegible] through a painful [illegible]. The theory's worth thinking over, even if it is far-fetched. Don't you think so, Madge?"

Adversity

Another period of doubt will be the airship industry's heavy penalty for the accident which destroyed the Hindenburg It is a tragic climax to the success which Germany has had with Count Zeppelin's idea

Similar crushing disappointments discouraged France Great Britain and the United States from trying to build and operate airships German enterprise in this field of aviation however seems to be established too firmly to yield to even so heavy a blow as loss of the Hindenburg

It is the lot of some men to become interested in an idea which carries more than a fair share of adversity with it Airship builders have had to fight for every inch of progress they have made nothing has been easy for them Discouragement has decimated their ranks until today only a few many still remaining willing to keep on trying

The Hindenburg which promised so much until its totally unexpected destruction was a symbol of Germany's unmatched skill in airship building The accident which left it twisted on the ground at Lakehurst is one more challenge to the resolute pioneers of a form of flight which has led them through endless grief to an unquenchable conviction that a lasting triumph will be their reward if they keep on fighting long enough

The Big Day

It never fails to be interesting in the weeks before the running of the Kentucky Derby to watch men and women who scarcely are aware of horse racing the rest of the year getting into the swing of it

The Derby is the country's best known horse race It is not however the most important race nor the race with the longest history For some reason or other it just happens to be the favorite one

Evidently the so-called sport of kings is close enough to the common stream of humanity to possess universal appeal Derby day at Churchill Downs Louisville has come to be one of those things in which everyone is expected to take an interest whether or not he knows the favorite's name--or cares

In this part of the country at least the Kentucky Derby is close to being as much of a holiday as the original Derby at Epsom Downs which has been a national event since 1780

Celebration

After the children have been fed washed clothed and herded out to the car--

After father has been told where to find clean socks and mollified for the loss of the sports section of the Sunday paper—

After the breakfast dishes have been washed the dining room tidied up the dog let out for a romp the windows closed and locked—

And after mother has been able to get possession of the bathroom long enough to wash her face and brush her teeth—

Then finally the family is all ready to go to grandmother's to celebrate mothers day

Speed

The next crucial moment in the history of the supreme court's relationship to the new deal probably will occur either on May 17 or one of the remaining Mondays in May when the court's opinions on two social security cases before it are expected to be handed down

It is interesting to note that both cases are before the court on rush orders While arguments were being heard the other day Justice Stone raised a doubt concerning the court's jurisdiction over the more recent case Robert H Jackson assistant attorney general replied the department of justice had waived the question of jurisdiction in order to obtain a quick ruling because of an imperative political situation

The court's order granting certiorari was announced April 26 Arguments will be concluded next week An opinion is expected by the end of the month The court work for the winter session then will be over Whatever the new deal's objections to the court are it can not be criticized for delay In fact the only delay in opinions concerning legislation sponsored by the Roosevelt administration has come about in cases which new dealers for reasons best known to themselves wanted to hold back as long as possible.

Women Voters On Court Topic

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1937 By the Associated Press

W[illegible] who [illegible]

[illegible] the court [illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible] effectively [illegible] among the [illegible]

I [illegible] of the League of Women Voters [illegible] effective [illegible] when [illegible] before [illegible] in either house [illegible] in either house of Congress

It also seemed odd that at the same meeting at which no action was taken on the President's judiciary proposal the general council by a two-thirds vote decided to put on its program for special study a proposal to make it easier to amend the Constitution Indeed the news release said

Action regarded by league leaders as more fundamental and more reflective of the league's interest in the pending constitutional discussions was an earlier vote to advocate an amendment to the federal Constitution which will make ratification of the amending process less difficult and more responsive to the will of the electorate

An Interview With Officers

Accordingly I sought an interview with Miss Marguerite Wells president of the League of Women Voters and Mrs Harris T Baldwin vice president and propounded a number of questions along the foregoing line The position taken is that the league's attitude at the general council is in no way to be construed as favoring or condemning the President's judiciary proposal that the league itself had not had time for effective action By this is meant that a subject is put on the two year program and as a rule a thorough study is conducted by one of the departments of the league and by the members before a position is taken In other words there has not been time for effective action within the league itself

As for the powers of the league's council it was explained to me that many of the members felt that they were not in a posi[illegible] [illegible] the league hereafter [illegible] of current questions have been [illegible] reference to the situation [illegible] found itself at the [illegible] in Washington

[illegible] a Federation of Women [illegible] by overwhelming vote [illegible] President's judiciary pro[illegible] League of Women Voters is a [illegible] primary and does not pass [illegible] after a long period of [illegible] for the general coun[illegible] President's concrete attack [illegible] did not come till February [illegible] no time to prepare a lengthy [illegible] on which action could [illegible] for the meeting here [illegible]

[illegible] of course just a bit puzzling is the fact that the council did support the [illegible] of a proposal advocating an easier way to amend the Constitution

Ground Of Defense

[illegible] defended on the ground that the council's attention is devoted thereby to [illegible] related to the structure of government rather than to a single phase of the problem raised by the present controversy over judicial interpretation

It is apparent of course that the League of Women Voters which more accurately would be described as a league for the study of current problems by women voters recognizes the importance of finding some answer to the present agitation over judicial interpretation If it be conceded it seems to me that the supreme court when under liberal influence stretches the powers of Congress derived from the interstate commerce clause and hence amends the Constitution then the converse is also tenable namely that the refusal of the four conservative justices to add to the powers of Congress at the expense of the states is a refusal to amend the Constitution

President Roosevelt in his radio address told the country that there was a crisis ahead and that it took too long to amend the Constitution because thirteen states could block the amendment Mr Roosevelt therefore concluded that instead of changing the Constitution it was much easier to change the judges When the League of Women Voters in its customary conscientious approach to all questions holds discussions on how to amend the Constitution in the easiest way there will no doubt be new dealers on hand to argue that the simplest of all is the Roosevelt method which avoids the so called bother of asking the people to vote on specific issues at all

The League of Women Voters incidentally says in its news release that the popular will could best be expressed through state conventions a direct referendum to state voters and a time limit for ratification but it is to be presumed that the league will not limit its studies and explorations to these three methods but will include Mr Roosevelt's device which has the merit of being the simplest and most direct as well as the easiest way to amend the Constitution that any liberal has yet advanced

Thoughts from Long Experience

IT IS EVIDENT that British business men and bankers have a legitimate interest in American politics because of the effect on their interest The following excerpts from a fortnightly review of the financial house of Silverton & Co London are presented as an interesting example of one type of opinion

Having cured the depression Mr Roosevelt now wants to halt the boom Having ceaselessly urged since 1933 that a rise in commodity prices was the main essential to prosperity and having utilized every uneconomic method to bring about a rise in commodity prices he now emerges a Canute in striped trousers and with voice uplifted bids the tide recede

We in this country in our phlegmatic stupidity have sat through the depression knowing that some belated miracle would save us We believed so firmly and so faithfully that nature always provides an antidote to every poison We watched the miracle happening before our eyes and only saw part of it the while we cursed our administration for doing nothing It took us a long time to realize that our treasury was acting up to its name by being a treasury While this was happening here the United States was going through the agonies of economic childbirth and is still waiting for the child to grow up The child will grow up in the course of the next hundred years And in saying this we beg of you our readers abroad not to think we are being smug or patronizing All we mean is that there are certain things in life that grow they cannot be created without [illegible] And the most brilliant reformers in the world have yet to find a substitute for experience

Even experience is not yet quoted on the New York Stock Exchange—or on the London Stock Exchange for that matter

Basically every industrialist every business man every sound banker is 100 per cent behind Mr Roosevelt in the main desires he wishes to translate into realities Their only difference of opinion lies in the method of achieving the desired result Mr Roosevelt obviously thinks that capital and the so-called vested interests are his enemies whereas in reality they are his best friends But Mr Roosevelt the phrase maker wants the applause of 30 million forgotten men rather than the commendation of a few thousands of capitalists who provide the means of existence for the so called forgotten men

WE ARE sufficiently socialistic to desire freedom for labor to the point where labor should enjoy the fruits of its toil and cooperation We are sufficiently capitalistic to desire freedom for capital to the point where it should not be held up for ransom by those who are still—as this troubled world stands today dependent upon the operation of capital

Had we not followed closely the vital experiment that has proceeded in Russia since 1928 which started when capital was not and is ending by Russia admitting that capital is to the point where she is exporting gold to the United States in order to create good feeling toward Russia as a buyer we might have some doubts on the question of state socialism But now we have none We have learned before that bureaucracy is merely other people's money on which no dividends have to be paid and it is because the United States is not yet ready for a complete agreement to this form of economics that Mr Roosevelt is [illegible] He continues to create an antipathy on the part of those who provide him with the means to carry on his administration and he may end by being the lone voice crying in the wilderness of prosperity bitterly acclaiming that another slump is on the way His argument is that he is prepared to insure the United States against another slump long before the ultimate peak of current prosperity has been reached But we—in all humility—can assure him that chasing rainbows is a colorful occupation in which many of our own have indulged that leads but to the unknown end

It is all very difficult this surmise this conjecture Even a thoughtful commentator has no obvious right to criticize the [illegible] of one of the world's great men But [illegible] perhaps a wisdom that comes not from power gives us a showing much [illegible] from [illegible] communion with [illegible] of experience that [illegible] toward a [illegible] Because Mr Roosevelt has twice been elected [illegible] of the United States [illegible] but another year in the old world

Not Much Love Lost

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON May 8 In connection with this new self assertiveness within congress it is an overlooked fact that the President and congressmen have never got along very well together personally Frankly the average congressman does not like President Roosevelt He has never had much cause to

Two emotions dominate congressional thought One is fear the other gratitude The congressmen have had cause to fear the President politically but they have not had much cause for personal gratitude

Contrary to the popular opinion not much patronage has been doled out to the average member of the house They get a few postmasters now and then but this really causes them more trouble back home than any other part of their business The best jobs have been going to the few powerful chairmen of the big congressional committees

On top of this several congressmen have come back from their districts after making speeches for the President's court program complaining that there was a noticeable lack of popular interest in the plan One congressman making a speech in a large southern city drew an audience of only 150 people Also their mail indicates there is far more popular concern over the approaching nuptials of the duke and Mrs Simpson

Of such practical things are revolts made

Prophet

The strange preachings of Agriculture Secretary Wallace lately have stirred considerable commotion among the thinkers of the new order

They are all thumbing through copies of his speeches which are supposed to be prophetic of the coming social democracy (Wallace's phrase) but apparently he means something like a socialized democracy

There is not much new in the Wallace philosophy He merely says frankly what some of the less courageous new ordainers have been hinting at He says straightforwardly for instance he wants permanent confiscatory taxes upon everyone who is making money so the government can continue to give to those who have little money and thus operate a super governmental spending machine to balance the economic order

One point which is new is that he wants to crush out all corporate power and have the government supervise corporations in some kind of cooperative arrangement for the control of production prices and labor He does not know how it can be done but he is trying to promote thinking along these lines in hopes that the solution will develop

When this is done he says the government will then be able to control capital labor and agriculture in a near perfect state

Utopia

It sounds slightly Fascist in some particulars such as the control of group influences but would preserve the democratic elective processes What many of his hearers are wondering is how long democratic processes would last with the government in control of everything It might work as long as wages and prices are being fixed ever higher and higher by the government but you can imagine what would happen to the democratic processes the first time this perfect democratic state decreed a wage cut for the national economic well being

What Mr Wallace will have to do first is to make everyone as pure and unselfish as he is and this may require a constitutional amendment repealing the law of human nature

Tricked

Quite an inside scramble has developed over the high hats to be worn by that world fair commission which will strut officially for the government in New York in 1939

When the bill passed the house the foreign affairs committee fixed it up to give two of its own committeemen Messrs Fish and Bloom places on the commission The bill provided for a commission composed of the secretaries of state agriculture commerce labor and chairmen and ranking members of the foreign affairs committees of the house and senate

But the senate did not propose to let that go The senate eliminated the secretary of state and added the chairmen and ranking major*ity and minority members of its* own senate committee on commerce instead of foreign relations But this left Senator Wagner of New York out so the bill was again changed to add the two New York senators Wagner and Copeland The effect was to name Copeland twice as he is also chairman of the commerce committee

The commission serves without pay but not without honors

Check up

Congressman Louis Ludlow's new book says that among the 77 major laws passed during the new deal 59 were written downtown by the executive branch of the government That is the legislative branch really wrote only eighteen of the new deal laws

Marion School Team To Meet Edison Nine Monday

With the results of two [illegible] games already played this season entered on opposite sides of the ledger Marion's high school nine this week was busy preparing for its invasion Monday night of the Morrow county diamond of Edison high school.

The Marion club dropped its first game by a 7 to 3 score at Mt Gilead but last Monday night turned back the invading Edison high team 4 to 3. The game next week will be a return contest for the teams.

Heavy hitters of the Marion club according to batting averages of the first two games are Everly, Wood, Sharrock and Huffman. The quartet has collected 12 hits in 21 times at bat with Everly leading in individual performance on the basis of his three safeties in four trips to the plate.

Wood who also does the twirling for the Marion team is a southpaw. He went the entire seven inning route in both contests allowing Mt Gilead six hits and Edison two. In [illegible] games he [illegible] 26 batters and [illegible] 11 base on balls.

NEW FISHING TAG BLANKS RECEIVED

Distributed to Officials and Stores by Conservation Department

New universal 50-cent fishing licenses were distributed in Marion yesterday by a representative of the state conservation department to hardware stores, the township clerk and to Clerk of Courts Carl J. Haberman. The new permits are not usable before June 1 but may be purchased now for use then.

Fishermen who wish to indulge in their sport before June 1 may purchase one of the old $1 licenses which will be honored by game wardens throughout 1937. Persons who have bought the old $1 tags for 1937 will not have to purchase the universal license this year.

To fish with anything but rod and reel before June 1 no license is required but with rod and reel the $1 license is required for the remainder of this month.

Mr Haberman received 150 of the licenses and sold two within a few minutes after receiving them. He expects to order several hundred more before the month is out.

COMMISSION ALSO PERMITS BUNTING AND BASE STEALING

Rosters of Three Leagues Set Up and Season's Program Outlined

This year for the first time in the history of organized softball in Marion the players will permit base stealing and bunting according to decisions handed down last night by commission members who met at the Y M C A to iron out minor details relative to the opening of the season a week from Monday.

The governing body set up the rosters of three leagues doubling two six team Sunday school loops and an industrial conference of eight clubs. Adding a full set of teeth to the penalties against the postponement or forfeiting of a game the commission ruled that postponement of a contest without the commission's consent will result in both teams being credited with a defeat and that any team forfeiting a game not only loses the contest but must obtain the consent of the commission before resuming the remainder of its schedule.

Alteration of the rules to permit both base stealing and bunting was voted following a lengthy discussion of the respective merits of both. It was pointed out by those advocating the permission of both that it keeps the game moving with both players and spectators alert. Commission members pointed out that bunting was last permitted about seven years ago and several seasons after it was outlawed base stealing was still allowed.

Previously the two have not been permitted at the same time commission members said although base stealing was permissible last year. In base stealing however the runner may not take a lead off from the base he legally occupies and may not leave his base until the pitched ball passes the batter. Bunting rules similar to those in hardball were adopted. This means that the batsman can bunt on any strike but that an unsuccessful attempt or a foul ball on the third strike retires the batter.

The six team Sunday school league will play three rounds of competition rather than two as has been the custom in the past several years. The season will continue until the third week in August with each entry meeting each other team three times during the season. The championship of the leagues will be decided by averages based on the three round schedule in preference to having a play off at the close of the season commission members said.

In another slight change from last year Sunday School league No 2 will be in action Monday night and Sunday School league No 1 will be active Tuesday night. The leagues played in reverse order last season. With six team loops three diamonds will be used for the Sunday school leagues, Garfield, McKinley and Marion Steam Shovel athletic fields. The eight team industrial league will play Thursday nights using the same three diamonds and one other to be selected by the grounds committee.

Rosters of the leagues follow: Sunday School No 2 (Monday night) Christian, Wesley No 2, Salem Evangelical, Greenwood Evangelical, Emanuel Lutheran and either Calvary or United Brethren. Sunday School league No 1 (Tuesday night) Trinity Baptist, Forest Lawn, Lee Street, Epworth No 1, Wesley No 1 and Epworth [illegible]. Industrial league (Thursday night) Huber Mfg Co, Fairfield Engineering Co, Keystown Camp, Defiance Pressed Steel Co, Omar Baking Co, Osgood Co, Marion Steam Shovel Co and General Excavator.

First Baseball Diamond May Be Site of Tourney

By International News Service

COOPERSTOWN N Y May 8 — Honus Wagner high commissioner of semi-pro baseball whose name is enshrined as a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame here said here that he favored this historic spot for the first officially recognized semi-pro tournament for New York State.

The tournament Wagner planned would be staged in Doubleday Field on the exact spot where the first game of baseball invented by Abner Doubleday was played in 1839.

Indians Withstand Late Rally To Win 7 6 Browns Beat Athletics

BY SID FEDER

Boston's three million dollar headache is disappointing as a can of stale beer this year and as full of tough luck as Friday the 13th this spring are brilliantly on the way up in the American League war.

If you won't take the word of Manager Joe Cronin, Owner Tom Yawkey and the experts in general on that just look at the records.

The Red Sox are in first place with a slim percentage edge over the Detroit Tigers and a half game lead on the New York Yankees.

Sparked by a couple of first year rookies, second sacker Bobby Doerr and outfielder Fabian Gaffke and the return to active infield duty of Manager Cronin, the Sox have won seven of 10 starts the last four in a row. Their big two in pitching, Lefty Grove and Wes Ferrell have been joined by a third top-notcher in the comeback kid, Fritz Ostermueller, No 1 disappointment of last season but winner of three straight so far for 1937.

Grove had his southpaw slant working in top form yesterday and hurled his mates to a 5-3 win over the Chicago White Sox to give the Bostons the league lead. Detroit's Tigers with Roxie Lawson pitching consecutive win number four topped the Senators 4-2 to hold second place.

The Yankees losing their second in a row because of Bump Hadley's shaky start went down before the Indians 7-6 and dropped to third place. The Tribe scored five times in the opening frame and then just lasted as the Yanks staged a late rally which included George Selkirk's fourth homer.

Featuring the National League program the Giants and Cardinals opened their season rivalry in New York with the loop champions finishing way in front 8-2 simply because the gas house gang handed them the decision by some fielding of the bush league variety. Slick Castleman pitched a six hitter and Dick Bartell homered with two on.

Pittsburgh's Pirates increased their league lead with an 8-3 win over Phillies as Bowman came back to his old stamping grounds and muffled his former teammates effectively.

Wild Bill Hallahan was tight in the pinches and twirled a 5-3 decision for Cincinnati over the Boston Bees — third straight for the rough house Reds. The Chicago Cubs winning streak ended at six in a row when the Brooklyn Dodgers belted a couple of young twirlers for seven runs in a fourth inning uprising and went on to win 12-1.

Philadelphia's Athletics used five pitchers but lost to the Browns 9-6. Joe Vosmik collected three hits and Bell and Bottomley had homers for the winners.

Tony, Beaten To Pulp, Declares He Won Battle

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK May 8 — Tony Canzoneri still refuses to ring down the curtain of a tragedy that may surpass anything the prize ring ever has known.

The greatest human fighting machine of the modern era pound for pound was beaten into a bloody pulp last night when he attempted to lift the world's lightweight crown from the dark brown brow of Lou Ambers but as he sat in his gory mess in the dressing room he refused to believe it.

"I won," muttered Tony as his handlers tried to open his right eye. "I'll fight again. I'm not through."

Fight experts unanimous in their opinion that Tony not only had been thoroughly beaten but was definitely through shook their heads and said it was a shame for little Tony to carry on. They appealed to Sammy Goldman his manager for the word that was promised before the fight: "If Tony is beaten he'll quit." Goldman had vowed.

"Quit nothing," roared Goldman. "Tony won the fight. Donovan (Referee Arthur Donovan) robbed Tony of victory. Sure Tony will fight again. He'll take a month's rest and come back and show 'em all."

COLUMBUS DEFEATS MILLERS; 11 PITCHERS SEE ACTION IN TILT

Brewers Score Eighth Straight Win Mud Hens Rout St Paul

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 8 — A few more days like yesterday and Donie Bush manager of the Minneapolis Millers and Burt Shotton of the Columbus Red Birds probably will be hunting new pitching talent.

Eleven hurlers paraded back and forth between the mound and the two benches as Columbus evened the series outlasting the Millers 15 to 13. Six Minneapolis hurlers issued seven walks and hit two batsmen. The Red Birds used five who gave up 15 hits and walked nine.

Columbus scored all its runs in the first three innings with the aid of a home run and a triple by Stein and doubles by Jordan, Moore and Slaughter. The Miller output included homers by Dickey, Kress and Reynolds and doubles by Pfleger and Spence. After it was all over Moore was declared the winning hurler with Wagner the loser.

A pair of home runs by Kenry Kelner and Ted Gullic's seventh homer of the season were big blasts in Milwaukee's eighth straight triumph at home this season a 5 to 4 decision over Indianapolis. It was Forrest Pressnell's fourth victory of the year.

Toledo paced by Mike Tresh who clouted two doubles and a pair of singles battered St Paul pitchers for a 13 to 5 victory to regain sole possession of second place in the standing. Although the slick work of his mates gave him plenty of leeway southpaw Joe Sullivan held the Saints to six hits.

Kansas City with John Niggeling allowing only four hits defeated Louisville 9 to 4 for its fourth straight victory.

SIR MALCOLM SET FOR ATTEMPT TO SET BOAT RECORD

By International News Service

NEW YORK May 8 — Gar Wood's world motor boat record of 124.86 m p h which has stood since 1932 is threatened for the first time in five years with the arrival from England tomorrow of Sir Malcolm Campbell's new hydroplane ready for trial. Sir Malcolm holds the world's land speed record of 301.13 m p h made two years ago. He will use the Rolls Royce motor from his racing car in his new boat which was designed by Fred Cooper creator of Miss England II and III and other fast craft.

Twenty-three feet in length, of beam Campbell's boat is painted a royal blue like the rest of his Blue Bird fleet.

Sir Malcolm's speed trials are expected to be made during the coronation month. He has two notable ones of which will be preliminary runs to test the boat. The test engine was placed by that firm in Blue Bird for the official trial.

HUH? DID YOU SAY TWENTY SEVEN?
YOU SAY THAT WHILE YOU WERE HELD PRISONER BY RUNT RADCLIFF AND PIERRE PENMAN, YOU OVERHEARD THEM PLOTTING TO ROB BENJAMIN GUMP OF MILLIONS—AND THAT TOM CARR WAS NOT PRESENT AT ANY TIME? HOW FAR WERE YOU AWAY FROM THESE ALLEGED PLOTTERS WHEN THIS WAS GOING ON?
EXACTLY EIGHTEEN FEET, 11½ INCHES
AND NOW WILL YOU TELL THE COURT WHY YOU KNOW THE EXACT DISTANCE?
WHY— I MEASURED IT— I THOUGHT SOME WITLESS, BRAINLESS, APPLE-HEADED INCAPACIOUS, DRIVELING, IDIOTIC LAWYER MIGHT ASK ME JUST SUCH A DUMB QUESTION!

WEEK'S STOCK UPTURN SLOW

Market Helped by Good Business News Earnings Reports and Dividends

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 8.—[illegible] the week it showed [illegible] the mob.

[illegible] was a [illegible] year of [illegible] earnings [illegible]

[illegible] however were do[illegible] that pass [illegible] traders.

Some think trade and industry may slacken its pace this summer. Steel operations [illegible] may be the forerunner of a temporarily slower gait in other divisions of industry, it was argued in some circles.

For another thing the [illegible] Wall Street [illegible] finished goods in widely diverse lines has already been marked up. This [illegible] may find consumers balky eventually.

[illegible] steel making slowed down a little other major industries such as electrical power output, motor production and carloadings improved over the preceding week.

Commodities again sought a lower level but the decline had none of the hysteria which shook prices little [illegible] lower in the two preceding weeks.

The bond market put on a steady front, bracing up manfully Friday. High grade loans, taking their cue from U. S. government obligations, crept forward in light trading.

WHEAT REGAINS LOSS JUST BEFORE CLOSE

Selling Prompted by Talk of Moisture Relief in Winter Grain Areas

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, May 8.—Losses of more than a cent a bushel in wheat prices were partially recovered just before the market closed today.

Rallying power was strongest in contracts calling for delivery of new domestic wheat after June. Selling during much of the day was prompted by reports of moisture relief in winter wheat territory which many traders said would be beneficial. One recognized authority however said trifling showers at this stage of crop development are of but minimum value and plant collapse can quickly result unless more rain is received.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1⅛ lower, May 136½-[illegible], July 117[illegible], and corn was unchanged to [illegible] off, May 131[illegible], July 110[illegible], [illegible] oats were [illegible] higher to [illegible] lower.

STOCKS SLUMP POINT OR MORE

Few Issues Buck Trend but Traders Are Cool to Business News

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 8.—Stocks were unable to get a recovery foothold in today's market and many slipped fractions to more than a point.

A handful of issues [illegible] weather [illegible] and a few even posted new highs for the year.

But traders on the whole paid little to the immediate news [illegible] to stimulate the buying [illegible] and the disposition generally was to cash in profits or [illegible] over the week-end.

Steels [illegible] as well as many of the rails [illegible] at the same time [illegible] restricted groove.

[illegible] of the [illegible] in a year [illegible] 700,000 shares.

[illegible] April sales to dealers were the largest for that month in the history of the company but the shares [illegible] indifferently.

Principal losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Chrysler, Goodrich, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway and du Pont.

Owens Illinois made another new year's low.

Bonds did better in the [illegible] category. Commodities were uneven.

Rubber stocks inclined to move sluggishly as officials in this field voiced the belief any further boost in the prices is unlikely over the balance of the year.

Although rail equipments were rather listless, estimates of large orders for carrier materials were optimistic. Locomotive and freight and passenger car makers figured to [illegible] quarter backlog [illegible] per cent over the year before.
